ing after flowering; but at other times, except when perfectly dry, withholding moisture. A moist atmosphere is beneficial, as also are occasional syringings. Do not overpot, lest the soil should become soured and unhealthy.

R.H.S.

SILVER.

Pot these bulbs in a mixture of rich and rather heavy loam, leaf mould and a little peat, with the addition of a small quantity of sharp sand. They do equally well in a cool greenhouse or a stove, even flourishing planted out in cold frames with mats thrown over the frame, and leaves or chaff strewed over the bulbs, as a protection in winter; thus showing that there is no need to treat Hippeastrums as stove or even greenhouse plants. If there be a bed in the greenhouse it will be found well to plunge them, watering copiously when in full growth and whilst the bulb is matur-

From Gardeners' Chronicle, Royal Horticultural Society, June 23rd, 1885.—“From Messrs. Kelway & Son came some cut blooms of choice Amaryllis, of clear, bright and distinct tints. A Silver Gilt Medal was awarded to this fine group.”

CUTTINGS FROM ENGLISH PRESS.

The "Times," June 12th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S SHOW, June 11th.—An award of merit was also given for 4 tall Delphiniums; Regalia and Faust are deep blue, with violet inner petals; Orbit and another (Ardite), are of a more brilliant azure.

The "Times," June 20th, 1889.

ROYAL BOTANIC SOCIETY, June 19.—Messrs. KELWAY received Certificates for Delphiniums Duke of Teck, cobalt blue with a white centre; Princess Maud, sky-blue veined with pink, and a white centre; and Castro, bright blue and black.

From "Gardeners' Chronicle," page 134, 1888.

New Varieties of Delphiniums.—The gems of a collection of these flowers, recently shown at a meeting of the Royal Horticultural Society by Messrs. KELWAY & SON, were Prince Oscar, Vosegus, Mrs. Edgar Wild, Ustane, Miss Pinney, Lord Balfour, Amelia, Imogen, Frederica, Lady Churchill, Prince of Naples, Sigrid Arnoldson, Lord R. Churchill, Valentia.

"Horticultural Times," June 29th, 1889.

"Among the Delphiniums which were generally remarkable for the length of spike and clear colour of the flowers—Ardite, blue and purple; Orbit, ditto, with a white centre; Regalia, purple-blue and a white centre; Faust, metallic purple; and Miss Salway, bright azure-blue—were the finest."

"The Gardening World," June 27th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S SHOW, June 25th.—"The Delphiniums were a superb lot, and several were certificated."

We have the pleasure of announcing that we have received the following awards for our Delphiniums.

SILVER BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, July 10th, 1888.

BRONZE BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, July 24th, 1888.

SILVER-GILT BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 11th, 1889.

SILVER MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL BOTANICAL SOCIETY OF LONDON, June 19th, 1889.

SILVER BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 25th, 1889.

The culture is exceedingly simple, but the results marvellous. The plant thrives in almost any position; dig the soil deeply (trenching is better still), and add plenty of well-rotted manure. Placed in lines, as a background to a border, the effect of the Delphinium is exceedingly fine; plant about 3 feet apart. They look well arranged in beds also, at the same distance apart each way. A succession of flowers may be expected from spring to early autumn. Copious watering in summer will be attended by increased size of spike and flower and continuity of flowering. Coal ashes strewn over the crowns will protect the plants from slugs through winter and spring.

KELWAY'S GAILLARDIAS.

PREMIER PRIZE.

PARIS
NATIONAL EXHIBITION,
1889.

THE ONLY GOLD MEDAL.

Though such an ornamental addition to the herbaceous border the perennial Gaillardia requires extremely simple treatment. Beyond the fact that the slugs should be looked for when the plants are coming through the soil in spring, little care is required; dusting with coal ashes in the spring will remedy this. Dig the soil well and enrich with well-rotted manure. Water well to ensure fine flowers. We would recommend the Gaillardia for bedding purposes; give a moderate amount of room and peg down, and a grand effect is to be obtained.

We have the honour of announcing that for our Gaillardias we have received the following awards:

SILVER BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, July 10th, 1888.
BRONZE BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, July 24th, 1888.
SILVER-GILT BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, May 30th, 1889.
SILVER-GILT BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 11th, 1889.

JAPANESE IRISES:—IRIS KÆMPFERI (SYN. LÆVIGATA).

This beautiful and singularly attractive type of Iris differs from the rest of the family in the flatness of its flowers, the delicate shades of colour and also in size of flower and breadth of petal. They are found in Japan and Siberia, and in the former country are deemed sacred and carefully and religiously tended, being grown as sub-aquatics. They should have copious supplies of water during the summer, and be kept dry through the winter. The following list of sorts, quite new to this country, quite come up to the standard of perfection which the Iris Kæmpferi attains.

PÆONIES—continued.

CUTTING FROM THE FRENCH PRESS.

"Revue Horticole," 1 Juillet, 1889.

LES CONCOURS GÉNÉRAUX D'HORTICULTURE DU 21 JUIN, A L'EXPOSITION UNIVERSELLE.

"On est tout étonné de voir en premier épanouissement une série très-nombreuse et très-belle de Pivoines herbacées. Au milieu des Pivoines à fleurs doubles se trouve une série nombreuse à fleurs simple, très grandes, de coloris variés, ayant toutes, en leur centre, un gros pompon d'étamines jaune d'or. L'exposant, M. Kelway, de Langport, à bien autres jolies choses; entre autres, des Pyrethrum, &c., &c."

CUTTINGS FROM THE ENGLISH PRESS.

From "The Times," June 12th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S SHOW, June 11th.

"A Silver-gilt Banksian Medal was adjudged to Messrs Kelway, of Langport, in Somerset, for a group of Pæonies, Pyrethra, &c. The Pæonies were of the greatest merit. They are doubles from the albiflora, a Siberian or Chinese Pæony, which differs considerably from the Garden or Apothecaries' Flower. Princess Christian (award of merit), is an opulently petalled and scented white, which had a fine effect in the masses in which it was arranged. Princess Irene has large pink guard petals, and an inner ball of pale sulphur. An Award of Merit was also given for the yellow double Pyrethrum Pericles, and for four tall Delphiniums; Regalia and Faust are deep blue with violet inner petals; Orbit and another are of a more brilliant azure."

"Horticultural Times," June 15th, 1889.

HERBACEOUS PÆONIES.

The improvements made in these flowers during the past fifteen years are, I think, greater than in any other flower. To the casual observer it would seem impossible that there is room for any further development of any useful character either in the flowers themselves or the habits of the plants, but as I watch the advances made every year in the extensive collection of both double and single varieties in Messrs. Kelway's Nursery at Langport, it does appear that there is no limit to be placed upon the improvement of any particular character. The Messrs. Kelway are amongst those who are working away with assiduous care in bringing these Pæonies up to a high state of perfection; they evidently aim high, and secure grand results by so doing, as the acres of these plants now in flower will convince any one who cares to go to Langport to see them."

"Gardeners' Chronicle," June 15th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 11th.

"One side of the Hall was occupied by an extensive display of cut blooms of Pæonies, Pyrethrums, Delphiniums, and Irises of uniformly good quality, bright colours, and large size in many cases, from Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, Somerset. The Pæonies, which were shown in twenty boxes, were a conspicuous feature, and contained many varieties of a high order of merit, from which the following are selected:—Princess Christian, double white, tinted pale yellow, the guard petals large; Cupid, satiny crimson, single; Princess Irene, double, pale yellow centre, guards pink; Miss Salway was of a similar form and colouring, but paler; Mercury, satiny rose, single; Agenorina, double, white centre, and very pale pink guard petals; Baroness Schroeder, double, with pale cream and pink centre, with pink guards, a large sized flower; Alba maxima is a fine double white; Prince George, a rich carmine double; and Lady L. Bramwell deserves mention as a large double pink."

"Gardening World," June 15th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

"A silver-gilt Banksian Medal was awarded to Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, Somerset, for a very large group of cut flowers, including twenty boxes of Herbaceous Pæonies, eight boxes of Irises, four boxes of Delphiniums, and nine boxes of Pyrethrums. These together occupied nearly the whole length of one side of the Drill Hall. Amongst the Pæonies were Janus, pink and white centre; Baroness Schroeder, white; Prince George, red; Mrs. Chamberlain, large rosy pink; and Alba maxima, white. All the above were double, but there were several boxes of single varieties."

"Northern Gardener," June 15th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, MANCHESTER.

"Pæonies were well shown, and were of many shades of colour and very large, but their delicacy of colour exempted them from the charge of coarseness. * * * * * Messrs. Kelway & Son sent up from Langport, a most charming lot of Cut Flowers, consisting chiefly of Pyrethrums, Delphiniums and Pæonies, which were in excellent condition, and made quite a feature of the Show."

"Horticultural Times," June 29th, 1889.

ROYAL BOTANIC SOCIETY, June 19th, 1889.

"Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, Somerset, were awarded the Silver Medal for a Collection of Hardy Cu Flowers, which included Pæonies, Gaillardias, Pyrethrums, single and double, and Delphiniums, with some gran spikes."

From "The Times," June 20th, 1889.

ROYAL BOTANIC SOCIETY, June 19th.

"Messrs. Kelway received Certificates for Pæonies curiously named 5001 and 5003, also for Delphiniums, Duke of Teck, cobalt blue with a white centre; Princess Maud, sky blue veined with pink and a white centre; and Castro, bright blue and black."

From "The Daily News," June 20th 1889.

THE BOTANIC SOCIETY'S SHOW, June 19th, 1889.

"Notable amongst others were the Cut Flowers sent by Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport."

From "The Morning Post," June 20th, 1889.

ROYAL BOTANIC SOCIETY'S SHOW, June 19th, 1889.

"Pæonies were fully represented."

From "The Queen," June 8th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, May 30th, 1889.

"Messrs. Kelway were prominent and successful exhibitors of Pæonies."

From "The Morning Post," June 21st, 1888.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

"Messrs. Kelway & Son contributed an excellent group of cut Pæonies, for which they were adjudged a Silver Gilt Banksian Medal."

From "The Garden."

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 26th, 1888.

"A great bank of Pæonies and Irises, Delphiniums, and Double and Single Pyrethrums came from Messrs. Kelway & Son. Amongst the Pæonies well worth noticing were Duni, Lady Bramwell, Dercyllis, Leucadia, Abotis.

From "The Gardeners' Magazine," June 30th, 1888.

"Herbaceous Pæonies, from Messrs. Kelway, made a brilliant display at the meeting of the Royal Horticultural Society on Tuesday last. It may with perfect safety be declared that such a show of Pæonies was never before seen under similar circumstances, for the quality of the flowers was not less surprising than the number."

From "The Newark Advertiser," July 4th, 1888.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

"Perhaps a finer collection of Pæonies, both double and single, in almost every conceivable shade of the colours which dominate this genus, was never before brought together. They were exhibited by Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport."

From "The Garden," July 7th, 1888.

"PÆONIES FROM LANGPORT.—A collection of double and single Pæonies from Messrs. Kelway & Son, of Langport, Somerset, shows the flower in its best character. Single varieties are exceedingly graceful and delicate. For more gorgeous colouring, we must seek the double varieties, of which Lady Bramwell, Princess Beatrice, and Don Juan are the finest; Venus is an ideal double Pæony, and Macella, Maria Kelway, Queen Victoria, and Agnes Mary Kelway are first-class."

"FLOWERS AT THE ITALIAN EXHIBITION.—To the ordinary eye the large Pæony flowers of Messrs. Kelway & Son must have been a surprise. Venus was very fine."

Pæonies will grow in almost any soil or situation. It is this which fits them to be Everybody's Flower. But to obtain flowers of the greatest size and finest colouring, and plants of the strongest growth, plant in rich deep soil well trenched, with rotten manure added. A top dressing of the latter is beneficial. There is no more showy or effective subject for the herbaceous border, large beds, or for planting in shrubberies.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, May 22nd, 1888.

"Messrs. KELWAY, who were awarded the Silver Banksian Medal, contributed a goodly collection of Tree Pæonies (cut blooms), mostly their own raising, in all nine boxes, which formed one of the most attractive sights of the display."

We have pleasure in announcing that for collections of 500 Blooms of Tree Pæonies we have been awarded as follows;—

SILVER BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, May 22nd, 1888.

SILVER-GILT BANKSIAN MEDAL, THE HIGHEST AWARD, ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S TEMPLE SHOW, May 30th, 1889.

The Tree Pæony (a perfectly hardy plant), flourishes, like the Herbaceous Pæony, with the simplest treatment. Planted in ordinary garden soil, trenched and well enriched with well rotten manure, the longer they remain undisturbed the better, except that about February in every alternate year, it is advisable to prick over the soil they are in some good well-rotten manure. Watering well before and during flowering greatly assists in the production of large, well-formed blooms. The time of flowering is throughout May and June.

CUTTING FROM FRENCH PRESS.

"Revue Horticole," 1 Juillet, 1889.

"L'Exposant, M. Kelway, à bien autres jolies choses entre autres, des PYRETHRUM à fleurs doubles de toute beauté;—Florentine, gros pompon rose pâle, à pétales très serrés, fourchus; King Oscar, fleur de forme semblable, carmin vif; Aphrodite, fleur blanc pur, ravissante; Pericles, centre jaune vif, collerettes de larges et longs pétales rose pâle. Dans les Pyrethrum à fleurs simples:—Clemence, centre jaune d'or, larges pétales carmin vif velouté; Princess of Wales, centre jaune d'or, larges pétales rose vif. Nous avons rarement vu des fleurs aussi brillantes que celles que nous venons d'indiquer."

CUTTINGS FROM ENGLISH PRESS.

"Gardeners' Magazine."

"Aphrodite Pyrethrum of special value for decorative purposes in a cut state."

"A similar award (Silver Banksian Medal) was made to Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, Somerset, for a fine collection of Pæonies (vars. of P. albiflora), Gaillardias, Delphiniums, and Pyrethrums. The only variety of the latter was Aphrodite, double pure white, with flat rays and a quilled disc."

"Horticultural Times," June 29th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, 25th June.

"Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, Somerset, sent some very fine Pæonies, Delphiniums, Gaillardias, and Pyrethrum Aphrodite, a pure white."

"Gardening World," June 15th, 1889.

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

"Irises were arranged in two large groups, while there was a group of Pyrethrums, both single and double. Some of the finer double Pyrethrums included Empress Queen, Magician, Wega, and King Oscar."

"Horticultural Times," June 29th, 1889.

"Among the Pyrethrums were some very deserving varieties, the most conspicuous being Melton, very fine, of rich bright carmine colour; Empress Queen, a large white of good form; King Oscar, rich carmine; Pericles, pale yellow with white ray; Florentine, pinkish-white, large size; and Aphrodite, an almost globular white. All the foregoing are doubles, but there were also some singles of excellent quality, including Clemence, carmine; and Camilla, rose; and others not named."

"Amateur Gardening," June 29th, 1889.

"PYRETHRUMS, DOUBLE AND SINGLE.—I have written at some length warmly commending the Pyrethrum in Amateur Gardening in spring, and a letter from a reader, says his dozen plants, which he procured from Messrs. Kelway then, are the delight of his visiting friends just now. Everyone wants one for their button-hole and he says he has reluctantly to ask them to wait until next season when his plants will give one hundred blooms. Those who have gardens threaten to have them themselves then, and this was the object of my article, as I am satisfied no one can see beds of double Pyrethrums of more than a dozen colours at this season—so useful for cutting and holding fresh for 3 weeks in the drawing room—without resolving to have them for their own use at the earliest opportunity."

"Amateur Gardening," June 29th, 1889.

ROYAL BOTANIC SHOW.

"Messrs. Kelway & Son, Langport, staged a fine Collection of Pæonies, Delphiniums, and Pyrethrums, gaining a Silver Medal."

From "The Garden."

ROYAL HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY, June 13th, 1888.

"Pyrethrums were represented by a collection of upwards of one thousand blooms from Messrs. Kelway, who received the award of the Silver Banksian Medal. The blooms were tastefully arranged, and produced a rich and striking effect. The finest of the double varieties were Aphrodite, Pericles, Figaro, Melton, Florentine. The finest single varieties were Lord Lansdowne, Merry Hampton, Princess of Wales, Princess Irene, Lorna Doone, Mary Anderson."

From "The Garden," June 23rd, 1888.

"Messrs. Kelway & Son have sent us a gathering of single and double Pyrethrums, rich in colour and OF FAULTLESS SHAPE. We owe much to Messrs. Kelway for having in a great measure popularised and perfected this useful and beautiful class of flowers."

From "Gardening Illustrated," August 11th, 1888.

"PYRETHRUMS SPLENDID BOTH IN COLOUR AND FORM. I do not suppose that one city gardener in a hundred has ever seen anything approaching such varieties as these in Pyrethrums, and my purpose now is to let them know of this GOLD-MINE OF FLOWERS with which Messrs. Kelway have made me acquainted. MELTON is the most richly-coloured double Pyrethrum I have ever seen, FLORENTINE the largest, and APHRODITE the whitest; and MERRY HAMPTON the most dazzling single."

From "Gardening Illustrated," page 212.

"DOUBLE AND SINGLE PYRETHRUMS.—MESSRS. KELWAY & SON are now our FOREMOST RAISERS. They have produced very fine and striking forms in MELTON, ORMONDE, FIGARO, EMPRESS QUEEN, FLORENTINE, MAGICIAN, WEGA, PERICLES."

As is the case with all our specialities, the culture of Pyrethrums is of an exceedingly simple nature. They are exceedingly hardy and the few points to be attended to in order to secure size, brilliancy, and number of flowers are the addition of plenty of ordinary well-rotten manure, and sufficient water when dry and in bud. They should be planted in well-trenched ordinary garden soil in borders, &c.; coal ashes strewed over the crowns in spring will prevent slugs from eating the young growth.
